30. Legal Principle:- (1) Consideration may be past, present, or future.
(2) Past voluntary service if followed by a promise to pay for the same is enforceable.
(3) Act done at request if followed by a promise to pay for the same is enforceable.

Factual situation:- The defendant murdered his wife and requested Mr. X to obtain pardon from the king for his act. Mr. X incurred expenses and somehow managed to procure a pardon for him. Delighted by the fact defendant promised to pay Mr. X 5000 rupiah. Later on he denied. X seeks enforcement.,

- a. The promise was just made in a delighted state of mind without any legal intention to be bound by it.,
- b. When X started his work there was no point of consideration so now he cannot enforce consideration for the same act.,
- c. Mr. X did the service at request of Defendant so any promise to pay by defendant is binding on him.,
- d. None of the above.

31. Legal Principle (1) Doctrine of estoppel does not apply to a minor.

(2) Doctrine of restitution requires a minor to give back what is left with him in case he has attained something by fraud.

(3) Minor incurs no liability in Torts or in contract.

Factual situation:- A minor took a loan from the moneylender by misrepresenting his age to be 19. In fact he was 17. He mortgaged his house from securing the loan. Now he files a case for cancellation of mortgage but refuses to pay back the loan. Moneylender was a friend of boys' father and has attended his birth celebrations which the boy is unaware of.

- A. Boy is to pay the loan as he misrepresented his age.
- b. Boy need not pay the loan as doctrine of estoppel does not apply to the minor, so even if he misrepresented he can now plead minority.
- c. As moneylender was aware of the age of the boy misrepresentation by the boy to him of his age is of no importance to the moneylender and he gave the loan fully aware that the boy is a minor.,
- d. Both (b) & (c).

32. Factual situation:-A minor took a loan from the moneylender by misrepresenting his age to be 19. In fact he was 17. He mortgaged his house from securing the loan. Now he files a case for cancellation of mortgage but refuses to pay back the loan. Minor has bought a new house from that loan which he accepted. Moneylender demands the title documents of that house.

- a. Minor is to give the title deeds of the house to the moneylender as it is still in boys' possession and moneylender has a right to get whatever is left with the boy.,
- b. As moneylender was already aware of the age of the boy he can recover nothing.,
- c. Boy needs to pay nothing as doctrine of estoppel does not apply to the minor
- d. No contract came into existence between them, hence he can't recover a thing.

33. Legal Principle:- There are some general defences available in an action for Law of Torts.

- (1) Inevitable accident
- (2) Statutory authority

Factual situation: There were several cases of Swine flu in Bihar in recent past in which many people died.

Government of Bihar authorized the health department to set up hospitals for the same. The hospital was constructed in a densely populated area. Residents opposed it and demanded closure. Hospital authorities claimed statutory authority.

- a. As the hospital is constructed at government order so it is legal and cannot be closed.,
- b. Government gave authority to construct a hospital and not notified the area for it and swine flu being an infectious disease puts larger public at risk so has to be closed.,
- c. Public opposition is not a reason for closing hospital or altering any government decision of this nature so hospital will stay functional.,
- d. None of the above.,

34. Legal Principle:- (1) In case of common intention of the parties they incur a joint liability.

(2) In case of release of one of the tortfeasors from the liability in torts it does not automatically release others.

(3) In case of joint tortfeasors liability is joint as well as several.

Factual situation: Two persons owed a loan to a bank. Bank recovered the entire amount due from one person only as the second one went bankrupt. Other person who had paid the due amount now institutes a suit against the first person. Is the suit for the claim maintainable?

a. The suit is not maintainable as the person has gone bankrupt.,

b. The suit is maintainable as person once bankrupt is not always a bankrupt and it will have to be decided by the court.,

c. Joint tortfeasors can claim the portion from one another and the suit is maintainable.,

d. Both (b) & (c). ,

5. Legal Principle:- (1) A principal is liable for the torts committed by his agent.

(2) A principal is liable for acts of agent what he has authorised him to do.

(3) Authority of the agent is also decided by the customs of the trade which the agent is conducting.

Factual situation: Mr. X was an agent of Sahara India. He used to collect the money from the customers and gave him the receipts for the same. At the end of the month he used to sign the receipts himself and put a stamp on it which read "Manager Sahara India" Same receipts were used in the official transactions with the+ company by the customers and also for claiming deductions under the Income Tax Act. It went on for five years. One day he suddenly disappeared. Later on it was found that he misappropriated the amount of six months of all customers. Customers are demanding money from Sahara India.

a. Company is not responsible as agent is not the manager of the company so it had to be done by manager of the company.,

b. Company authorised him to act as an agent and all the acts done by him portraying himself as agent.,

c. As it went on for five years and company never objected to it so it can be presumed that it was done with the permission of the company and now it cannot deny the responsibility.

d. None of the above.,

36. Legal Principle:- (1) A principal is liable for the torts committed by his agent.

(2) A principal is liable for acts of agent what he has authorised him to do.

(3) Authority of the agent is also decided by the customs of the trade which the agent is conducting.

Factual situation: Some customers invested some money in shares of Reliance through a share transfer agent.

He advised the customers to invest in the mutual fund scheme run by the same company as it was less risky, for which he was to act as share transfer agent. They invested on his advice in the scheme which was in actual not risk free but highly risky. Money invested went in loss and not paid any return. Customers are demanding the principal amount back.

a. Company is liable to pay as the scheme was run by the same company.

b. Company is not liable as customers acted on the personal advice of the share transfer agent who was not authorized by the company for mutual fund scheme.

c. Company is liable as it never warned the customers about it.

d. None of the above.

37. Principle: Trespass to land means direct interference with the possession of land without lawful justification.
